CS 2SC3 and SE 2S03 Fall 2009

Quiz 1 Answer Key

William M. Farmer

Department of Computing and Software
McMaster University

18 September 2009

Question 1

Most software products are developed by strictly following the waterfall software life cycle model. Is this statement true or false?

A. True.

B. False.

Question 2

Without _____ there is no basis for judging the correctness of a software product.

A. Requirements.

B. A design.

C. Testing.

D. Code inspection.

E. Code documentation.

Question 3

In this course we are not focusing on programs that are

    A. Sequential.

    B. ☐ Concurrent.

    C. Subject-invoked.

    D. Applicative.

    E. Terminating.

Question 4

Which programming language has a precisely defined syntax?

    A. C.

    B. C#.

    C. OCaml.

    D. Scheme.

    E. All of the above.

Question 5

Which programming language has a precisely defined semantics?

- A. C.
- B. C#.
- C. OCaml.
- D. Scheme.
- E. All of the above.